ATTACK SAID TO BEEN COSTLY

Germans Leave Hundreds of Dead Behind After Their Drive

LOSE SOME TRENCHES

Teutons in Official Report Tell of Loss Due to Superior Force of French Troops

Paris, Nov. 1—German troops in important masses made a thoroughly organized attack along a front of nearly five miles in the Champagne district and were subjected to serious check with heavy loss, the French War Office announces. It is asserted that the assaulting forces were hurled back along the entire front of the attack, extending from the vicinity of Hill No. 195 to the position of "La Courtine," except that they succeeded in reaching the summit of Butte de Tahure.

Large numbers of dead were left by the Germans upon the battlefield. The infantry engaged in the assault were chiefly troops recently transferred from the Russian front, according to the French official statement, which reads as follows:

"The enemy bombardment reported in the Champagne developed with great violence on a front of about eight kilometers, bounded by the woods on the side of Hill No. 195 Butte de Tahure, the village of Tahure and the trenches to the south as far as and including the works of 'La Courtine'. This preparation was followed along this entire front by a thoroughly organized attack by important masses of infantry formed in the major part from troops recently brought up from the Russian front.

"In spite of the vigor of the attack and the extreme ferocity of the assailants the enemy was again subjected to a serious check. The assaulting waves, decimated by our fire upon the entire front, succeeded only in attaining the summit of the Butte de Tahure.

"Everywhere else and notably before the village, where the fighting was particularly stubborn, the Germans were completely repulsed and thrown back into their trenches. They left upon the scene of the struggle a very large number of dead bodies.

"There has been no very important action on the rest of the front."

The official statement issued by the War Office tonight reads:

"In the course of spirited artillery actions in the region of Lombaertzdyck our batteries demolished several enemy observation posts. In Artois an artillery duel has continued to the north and to the east of Souchez, being particularly marked in the neighborhood of the Bois en Hache.

"To the northeast of Neuville-St. Vaast the struggle continues with great obstinacy for possession of those sections of trenches where the enemy pentrated. We have retaken part of them.

"In Champagne the Germans, after a fresh artillery preparation with the employment of large quantities of suffocating shells of large calibre, renewed their attacks in the region to the north of Les Mesnil. They attempted during the course of the day four successive assaults.

"Everywhere our artillery and infantry fire stopped their progress and obliged them to retreat in disorder to the trenches which they had left. Thier losses were again very heavy. Three hundred and fifty-six unwounded prisoners, of whom three were officials, remained in our hands."

JAMES R. MANSFIELD,

KAISER'S CONGRATULATIONS

Emperor Says "Thus Far God Has Helped Us.

Amsterdam, Nov. 1—Emperor William, according to a dispatch from Berlin, has sent to a congratulatory message from the Prussian cabinet the following reply:

"My warmest thanks to the ministry of state for its inspiring words by which it renewed on the day of the 500th anniversary of the reign of my house over Brandenburg its vow of loyalty. In reviewing half a thousand years of Brandenburg-Prussian history, God's guidance appears to have been wonderful.

"Across the depths and the heights my house has been raised from the electoral hat to the imperial crown and from a small mark to the center of the German empire, whose strength and power have been so brilliantly proved to friend and foe in the present war of the nations, the greatest of all times.

"With full humility, I acknowledge together with the German people, that thus far the Lord has helped us. May He henceforth graciously assist us and guide the German people, who stand together united and imperturbable, ready for all sacrifices, through the dark days of severe affliction to the bright sunlight of peace, to new and vigorous work, to the road marked out by Divine Providence."

LYNCHING IN MISSISSIPPI

Suspected Murder Found Hanging to a Tree.

Columbia, Miss. No. 1. — Jack Hughes, 30 years old, member of a prominent family of Washington parish, La., adjoining this country, was taken from the county jail here early yesterday by a party of masked men and hanged to a tree a short distance outside the city limits. Hughes was under arrest in connection with the murder of Larue Holloway, a well-known young man of this place, who was killed near here on the night of October 21.

Otho Fortenberry, the jailer, who occupied quarters on the second floor, was awakened about 1 o'clock yesterday morning by three masked men who, after forcing him to give up the keys, to the cell occupied by Hughes, bound him to his bed.

The lynchers worked quietly, forcing Hughes to put on his clothes and leaving the building without awakening more than two of the several prisoners in adjoining cells.

Hughes' body was found swinging from a tree.

According to the authorities, persons who witnessed the killing of Holloway in a lumber camp near here said that Hughes shot the young man in the back without provocation.

Holloway at the time, it was said was engaged in a fight with another person while Hughes was an onlooked. Hughes at first defied arrest, but C. P. Jones, who witnessed the killing, took him into custody and delivered him to a deputy sheriff.

Hughes formerly resided at Isabel La., but came here several months ago to accept a foremanship with a lumber concern.

DEATH DUEL HIGH IN AIR

Workman Killed by Foe on New Bridge Over River at Cleveland

Cleveland, Oct. 30—A horrified crowd yesterday saw a death duel 60 feet in the air on an arch of the new high level bridge over the Cuyahoga River, in which Frank Wright, storekeeper for bridge contractors, was killed by a fellow workman with an iron bar. The killing was witnessed by Wright's wife, who was making her way up to him with his lunch. Police have arrested Jack Browning in connection with the crime.

The killing was preceded with a grim struggle, in which the two men wrestled back and forth on the arch, and both came near to falling into the river several times.

After Wright had been slain the assailant jumped from platform to platform until he reached the ground. He fled.

ROUMANIA TO STAY OUT

Cabinet Members Says That Nation Is Under No Obligation to Fight

Madrid, Oct. 30—M. Horumbaro, Roumanian minister for foreign affairs, has made the following declarations to a correspondent now with the Austro-German armies:

"Roumania does not desire to intervene in the war and would only intervene if her interests were threatened by some belligerent. Roumania is not obliged to defend Serbia against Bulgaria, because Bulgaria fights as an ally of the central empires and her contest with Serbia is therefore an episode of the European war.

"Roumania is not under obligation to defend the treaty of Bucharest against the great powers, but only against countries signatory to the treaty. We have no aspirations regarding Bessarabia, Transyivania and Bukovina, and no probability exists of Roumanian intervention on the side of the central powers."

IRISH NOT DODGING WAR.

John Redmond Quotes Figures to Refute Report.

London, Nov. 1.—John Redmond, Nationalist leader, in a letter made public today in reference to statements to the effect that large numbers of Irishmen are emigrating to escape conscription, quotes the figures of 1913, 1914 and 1915, showing that "Irish emigration has dropped in the most remarkable degree—at least 50 per cent—and the decrease continues." He adds that similar statements regarding emigration from Great Britain will be found on investigation to be equally devoid of foundation.

FRENCH ENGAGE BULGARIANS

Battle Said to Be in Progress in Stramnitza District

SERBIA'S CONDITION

Resistance of Country Said to Have Been Broken and Fighting Now as Guerrillas.

Athens, Nov. 1—French and Bulgarians are engaged today in a great battle in the Strumnitza and Krivolsk regions.

London, Nov. 1—Serbia's plight is growing rapidly worse today.

The Germans are fifty miles south of the Danube in places. Austrians driving eastward from the direction of Vicegrad, are making some progress, though hammered by the Montenegrins, who hang on their right flank. Bulgarians are already in force along an east and west line from their frontier to the Nish-Saloniki railroad in the Veles and Uskub region. In smaller numbers this line extends to the westward of the railroad, with scouts, according to latest accounts on the Albanian frontier. This front the Bulgars are trying to strengthen, so as effectually to cut the Serb army in two.

From the northwest the Germans are directing a fierce drive on Kragujevac, site of the Serbians' big arsenal, sixty miles southeast of Belgrade. It is not quite in line with the Austro-German center's movement down the Morava valley, but evidently is deemed of sufficient strategic importance for a minor diversion, as an incident to the general advance.

General von Gallwitz has crushed the Serbian resistance in the Razana region, sixty miles southwest of Belgrade and forty miles south of the Save river. Serbian positions northwest of Garni, Milanovac (not to confused with Milanovac, which in farther east) ,fifty-five miles due south of Belgrade, have been taken.

The Serbian resistance is admittedly degenerating more and more into guerrilla fighting, which annoys but does not check the invaders.

HALLOW'EEN NIGHT.

King Street Alive With Merrymakers Until After Midnight.

The streets were crowded Saturday night with masked boys and girls who were celebrating Halloween night. Despite the crowds on the thoroughfares and the fun that every one enjoyed there was no disorder and not a complaint had reached police headquarters up to midnight. There were no arrests.

Hundreds of children — and many not classed as children—wearing the most grotesque costumes they could find and masks of an endless variety, held their annual Halloween celebration on King street, That thoroughfare was crowded from early in the evening until late at night.

In addition to wearing masks and odd costumes the youngsters, added life to the celebration by bringing out horns, bells, rattles and an endless variety of other noise-making devices.

There were country bands also in the line of march, the crowds pacing up and down the street until the clocks recorded th wee sma' hours.

Many Halloween parties were given and the masks worn were features. The usual "spooks" also put in their appearance at each of the gatherings.

As is ever the case, however, young folks annoyed some of their elders in certain localities. Most of the victims took the matter goodnaturedly, while others recalled the fable of the jackass dancing among the ducks—fun for the beast but dangerous to the ducks.

Halloween, or the eve of All-Saints day, has lost much of its religious significance and has become a day or an evening of merry-making and of games and devices supposed to forecast the future in love affairs, It is observed quite generally in many places. The celebration has degenerated into one wherein the old superstitions embalmed in folklore of many lands are revived for the nonce. The decorations usually adopted for the occasion embody fanciful ideas of witches and goblins and spooks.

Carrying out the idea of the supernatural and mysterious, small boys and in many instances the older ones have for generations celebrated the day by acts of mischief and vandalism and annoyance of others, such as removing gates from their hinges, rapping at doors in the night-time, ringing door bells and making weird mysterious noises. Indoors the ceremonies usually embody various games or devices supposed to be prophetic of the future of the person experimenting in matters of love and marriage.

A Halloween carnival will be given tonight in the Westminster building, under the auspices of the Westminster Club, A feature will be a mock trial, in which several young attorneys will take part.

PRIESTS MURDERED.

Eskimos Near Hudson Bay Charged With Crime.

The Pas, Manitoba, Oct. 30.— Two Catholic priests and two prospectors have been murdered by Eskimos north of Chesterfield Inlet, Hudson Bay, according to Capt. Lockhart, of the Royal Northwest police boat Village Bell, which arrived here today from northern waters. Capt. Lockhart, said he believed the four men had been murdered by the same inland tribe of Eskimos that attacked Radford and Street, the explorers.

Peaceful shore Eskimos told him that the inland tribe had heard the constables were looking for the men who attacked the explorers, and therefore were supsicious of all strangers.

A Tepaluc guide, who was with Radford and Street, told Capt. Lockhart that Street put up a great struggle for his life and, with his body full of spear holes, he lived from noon till sundown, when an Eskimo squaw cut his throat and pushed his body over a cliff.

The Tepaluc saved his life by marrying one of the women of the tribe, and eventually made his escape to the bay coast. He positively refused to serve as guide for Inspector Bates, who wished to visit the scene.

The two priests killed were Fathers Turquetil and Le Blanc, and one of the prospectors was named Caldwell.

PLANTS GUNS FOR ATTACK

Villa Planning to Make Immediate Drive for Augua Prieta

IS READY FOR BATTLE

Engagement May Be Delayed, But Says He Will Attack, Regardless of Consequences

Douglas, Ariz., Nov. 1.— Villa troops are invading Sonora within striking distance of Agua Prieta, opposite here, and the expected attack against the Carranza garrison apparently is a matter of hours. Advance cavalry of the invaders halted late yesterday three and one-half miles east of Agua Prieta. During the afternoon General Villa began placing his artillery for the attack. Meantime, Gen .Calles, the Carranza general, began sending his men to the trenches around Agua Prieta.

General Francisco Villa early yesterday talked with Americans across the boundary and announced that he intended to attack the Mexican town, regardless of any action United States troops might take.

The main body of Villa soldiers early yesterday formed a juncture with their advance troops at the Gallardo ranch, about 18 miles southeast of Agua Prieta. The attacking army then started forward for the final advance on the Carranza defenses.

Colonel Florencio Diaz, commanding approximately 1500 cavalry, preceded the invaders at the Gallardo ranch and halted his forces just beyond the range of the guns of Gen. Calles.

Brig. Gen. Thomas F. Davis, in command of the United States troops entrenched just north of the Mexican line, made a careful inspection of his men and their positions. He also kept a close watch of the Mexican military movements plainly to be seen from the American side of the border.

Thousands of spectators witnessed during the afternoon the first firing incident to the expected attack. A horseman, believed to have been a Carranza spy, suddenly broke away from the Villa column and raced for his life, amid a shower of bullets, for the beleagured Mexican town.

Several of the Villa soldiers went in pursuit, firing as they rode, but the man reached Agua Prieta apparently uninjured.

In the opinion of United States army, officers it should require Villa several days to dispose his forces and place his artillery before beginning an assault upon Agua Prieta.

El Paso, Nov. 1.—Representations to the de facto Government of Mexico urging an immediate increase in its vigilance along the border, where bandits are said to have taken refuge after raiding Texas ranches, have been made by the United States, according to a telegram from Secretary of State Lansing to Governor James E. Ferguson. The message requested the Governor to endeavor to allay race prejudice and restrain indiscreet conduct in the disturbed area.

Grand Lodge of Masons of Kentucky Contributes to Proposed Memorial

The Grand Lodge of Masons of the state of Kentucky has made an appropriation of $3,000 toward the erection in this city of the memorial temple to Washington, the Mason, according to advices which have just reached here. The grand lodge of Colorado has also made an appropriation of $500 which is regarded as the first installment of a large sum. In addition both of these grand bodies have subscribed for their full quota of memberships in the roll of honor which consists of masonic bodies and individuals who have contributed the sum of $100 each. There are 1000 of these memberships, the money derived from their contributions being regarded as the first $100,000 toward the erection of the memorial.

Advices have also been received by the local committee that four other grand lodges, Mississippi, Arizona, New Mexico and Arkansas have approved the memorial project and will be represented at the next meeting of the association.

When the association meets again here on February 22nd. it is expected that a report from the ways and means committee will show that sufficient cash has been subscribed to warrant going ahead with the building.

The local committee has completed arrangements for the purchase of a building site on the top of Shooter's Hill in George Washington Park and it is probable that the temple will be erected there.

NOVEL QUESTION INVOLVED

Trustees Enjoined from Spending Money of Church on Burying Ground

A suit involving a novel proposition, was heard this morning by Judge J. B. T. Thornton in the circuit court. It appears that in the omnibus bill which was passed by Congress last winter appropriating money for war claims to a number of Virginia churches, the sum of $850 was given to the Lebanon Union church of Linconia. The union church has been given up and there is now no church of that name, the Baptist, Methodist and Episcopal churches of that place claiming that they are its successors. The trustees of the old church, decided to use the money on the burying ground of the former congregation and they were enjoined in this by the three churches.

Judge Thornton indicated before adjournment today that neither party to the suit had any right to the money as the three churches could not show their title to it and the trustees had no right to spend the money on a burying ground. The trustees were represented by Attorney C. Vernon Ford and the churches by Attorney Howard W. Smith.

ELECTION TOMORROW

Tomorrow will be election day in Virginia and several other states. Every member of both branches of the General Assembly will be chosen at that time, and there are many county and city officers to be elected at the same time. No State officers are involved.

There is little interest in the contest generally, but in some localities there are contests which are attracting local interest.

It is known that many new faces will be seen in the next State Senate, there being about a dozen contests, especially where the Democrats and Republicans are on equal terms.

R. Ewell Thornton, Democrat is the only candidate for the State Senate from the Fourteenth district, embracing Alexandria City and Alexandria Fairfax and Prince William counties.

J. Fred Birrell, Democrat, is the only candidate for the House of Delegates from Alexandria City and county. Both are candidates to succeed themselves.

It is often suggested in cases where the Democratic candidates have a walkover, that every member of the party cast his ballot. It will require but a few minutes, and many reasons could be advanced to show why every citizen should do his duty in this matter.

The Norfolk Virginia-Pilot says:

The practical certainty of the usual easy democratic victory tomorrow, in no wise relieves any loyal democrat of the duty of going to the polls and casting his ballot for the [illegible] ticket. The voting habit is a good one to get and to have, and the really "good citizen" is he who demonstrates his lively interest in public affairs by going to the polls and casting his ballot in each and every election held, regardless of whether or not he considers his vote is needed to ensure the triumph of the principle or policies in which he conscientiously believes. The democratic nominees are entitled to the full party vote on Tuesday, and every loyal democrat owes it to these nominees, to the public, to the party and to himself to go to the polls and cast his ballot.

NOVEL CAUSES FOR DIVORCE

Many charges and counter charges are brought to the divorce mill in these days:

John F. Suits has filed suit for divorce in the Circuit Court of Chicago because, as he says, Mrs. Suits is too beautiful to be the wife of a salaried clerk, and that is what Suits is.

Suits has come to realize, he says, after ten years of hard efforts to support an extremely beautiful woman in the "correct setting," that it cannot be done on $100 a month. Mrs. Suits made up her mind on that score two years ago, when she left her husband and decided to support herself on her musical talents. Suits struggled for two years to get enough money to entice his beautiful wife back again. And now come the divorce proceedings.

The poor drug clerk was forced to realize that his salary was insufficient to support his charming wife in the way she deserved. He knew $1,200 a year was not enough to put his wife in the circles of society where her beauty warranted, so he finally made up his mind not to be a drag to her any longer. He decided to get a divorce that she might climb to the highest pinnacles of her ambition. He would hold her back no more.

The bill declares Mrs. Suits is "fully cognizant of her charms, both as a musician and a beauty, and aspires to a superior station in life to that of the wife of a salaried clerk.."

Mrs. Suit's mother keeps house for her. She refuses to expose her beauty to newspaper men, but when she was told through the door that her husband had said she was "too beautifuly for matrimony," she replied sweetly:

"Yes, but why didn't he think so before this?"

John H. Corcoran of San Francisco charges his wife with having a bad case of cacoethes loquendi—a propensity to play upon the mouth organ.

He alleges that sometimes she talks for three hours without ceasing. Corcoran, has begun suit for divorce from his wife. Lately Crocoran was in the real estate business, and he set forth in the complaint that his better half often interfered with sales. At times, when he did not notice when the verbal out pouring began, Corcoran says his wife would fall exhausted from the vocal exertion.

A man named Goesch is suing for divorce in Chicago. He alleges that his wife has always had a shrewish temper and that she is the most incessant nagger in the world. The bill asserts that she used to sleep in the daytime while he was at work at the stockyards so she must be wide awake and scold him all night. The bill says that when Birdie Goesch, a daughter, was married, Mrs. Goesch told the bridegroom immediately after the ceremony that she had locked his bride in a room and would not release her until he had administered a thrashing to his new father-in-law.

A special meeting of Union machinists will be held tonight to discuss the sudden dismissal Saturday of six employes of the Washington Steel and Ordance Company's plant at Giesboro Point. The six employes, members of the machinists' union, had been active in unionizing the 1,500 workmen at the plant. No reason was given by officials of the company for their discharge.

A dispatch says. "The allies continue to land forces at Saloniki. The Bulgarians have succeeded in occupying part of Veles, situated on the right bank of the Vardar, notwithstanding the heroic resistance of the Serbians, according to Saloniki advices. The other part of the town remains in the hands of the Serbians. The Bulgarian losses are placed at 25,000 men."

Villa troops invading Sonora arrived yesterday within striking distance of Agua Prieta, and the expected attack against the Carranza garrison apparently is a matter of hours. Advance cavalry of the invaders halted late yesterday 31 1-2 miles east of Agua Prieta, Gen. Francisco Villa, who arrived at the international border several miles further east a few hours earlier, talked with Americans across the boundary and announced that he intended to attack the Mexican town, regardless of any action United States troops might take.

A special investigation by the German military authorities concerning Robert Fay, under arrest in New York, charged with conspiracy in connection with an alleged plot to blow up ships carrying supplies for the Entente Allies and who has declared that he was a lieutenant in the German Army, was followed by a statement from the authorities yesterday that there is not now and never was an officer by the name of Fay in the German Army.

To save his 3 year old son, Michael Tassolacqua, of Philadelphia, heroically sacrificed his own life Friday, evening, when a bicycle on which the father and son were riding crashed into a heavy dray. Both Tassolacqua and the child landed under the wheels of the wagon following the crash. By an almost superhuman effort the father seized the boy, and hurled him to the sidewalk, where he landed unscathed. The parent, however, was crushed under the wheels.

Blanche Walsh, the famous actress died at Lakeside Hospital Cleveland, yesterday evening, a martyr to her profession. At the close of an engagement at the Hippodrome here two weeks ago, Miss Walsh was operated on for appendicitis. Before she had entirely recovered she insisted on going to Youngstown to fulfill an engagement. She collapsed there and was take to Cleveland a week ago, Since then she had been extremely low, but is was only Saturday night that hope for her recovery was abandoned.

Dr. J. J. Kennedy, a prominent physician of Mill Creek, W. Va. was decoyed from his home to the woods and murdered about 3 o'clock yesterday morning by an unknown assassin, who tore a great hole in the doctor's head with a shotgun. The assassin presented himself at the Kennedy home summoning the doctor to attend a patient at a point distant from Mill Creek. When he had gotten him far enough away from Mill Creek to escape detection, it is thought that either the man or some one in ambush shot Dr. Kennedy. The theory entertained is that Dr. Kennedy may have been done away with because he was to be a witness in a criminal trial. Some, however, believe the motive was robbery.

Information from Congressman Carter Glass, who is in a private sanatorium in Baltimore, shows that he is improving, and hopes soon to return home in good health. Despite reports to the contrary it is stated that Mr. Glass' only trouble is a nervous breakdown, from which he is rapidly recovering.

The seven year old daughter of George Fleming, residing near Freeling, was seriously burned while being left in the house alone, a few days ago. The father saw his little daughter run out into the yard with her clothes in a blaze, but before he could hurry to her aid practically all her clothing was burned off her body.

Spic and span in a coat of paint, her machinery completely overhauled, her saloon and staterooms renovated and new furniture installed, the yacht Mayflower, on which President Wilson, is expected to spend part of his honeymoon after his marriage to Mrs. Galt, left Norfolk, Saturday night for Washington.

John H. Harding of Barton Heights, Richmond, sentenced to serve two years in the State penitentiary for grand larceny in connection with Commonwealth Bank defalcations, walked forth from the prison this morning a free man. Governor Stuart directed that the remainder of the man's term shall be commuted. His time would have been up on January 1st, but the Governor, after refusing to grant a conditional pardon, on May 8th, determined to commute the remainder of the sentence after October 31st.

John R. Charlton, president of the Southern Paper Company, well known business man, of Richmond, died early yesterday morning in St. Elizabeth's Hospital after an illness of more than a year. Mr. Charlton was born in Chesterfield county about fifty years ago. That Germany already is planning the rehabilitation of her commerce, at the end of the European war is shown by the fact that the interned auxiliary cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm is expected to go into dry dock, at Norfolk November 6, for extensive hull and engine repairs and to be practically refitted following an order issued by the imperial German government that no ships be sold. No official announcement has yet been made that the Wilhelm is to be repaired at Norfolk, but Capts. Thierfelder and Thierchens, commanders, respectively; of the Wilhelm and the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, have discussed the matter with officials of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company following a conference with officials at Washington.

Page county Tuesday night witnessed a novel and severe October electrical storm. All of Monday evening the western sky was hung with threatening and lowering clouds, with an occasional rumbling of thunder and flash of lightning and a storm broke arms a large blacksnake, apparently nightfall. Blinding lightning and deafening thunder, with a terrific downpour of rain, and high winds swept the entire valley. So far no damage has been reported, though farmers will be set back with seeding which already is the latest ever known in the Luray section. The storm has exploded the theory of old settlers, who put great faith in these fall thunder storms as harbingers of severe weather. Immediately after the storm passed there was a decided change to warmer weather.

Counsel has been retained by a number of Richmond merchants to test the right of the city to assess a tax of $1.40 against merchants' capital invested in business. The local tax on the capital of others is only 65 cents on the $100. The total tax—State and city—against the capital of business men other than merchants is 95 cents. The merchants, however, according to the avowed purpose of the city, are to be made to pay, if possible, the $1.40 tax in addition to the State tax on purchases. This, some of the larger merchants—those most interested—say they will not pay. Tax experts who have discussed the matter with the merchants and their legal advisers, have said that the proposed local rate is contrary to the spirit of the new tax law, and that the merchants should not pay the tax.

Two white-men were found dead in a box car at Crewe yesterday morning when a coal train stopped at the station. They had been stealing a ride and it is believed they were killed by the pushing together of the steel rails with which the car was partly filled. The only clue to identification is a bottle of whiskey purchased in Lynchburg. They also wore shoes purchased in that city.

ROYAL LOVE TRAGEDY.

Girl Throws Vitriol on Prince and Shoots Herself.

London, Nov. 1.—Details of the love tragedy, of Prince Lepold Coburg, nephew of King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, and the beautiful Lottie Rybichka in Vienna, are given by the correspondent at Budapest. Report of the girl's death is confirmed, while the prince is still living.

The prince, who is 37 years old, and the girl, who was 18, met two years ago at a high social function. Their meeting was a case of love at first sight. The prince convinced the girl that he would be able to overcome the inexorable rules preventing the marriage of royalties with commoners.

Despite the opposition of the girl's father, who is a high official of the Austrian State police, and her mother, Miss Rybichka, gave up her home and traveled with the prince throughout the country.

Finally the couple took apartments in Vienna. On October the 14th the girl ordered the servants not to return until 8 o'clock, saying that she expected the prince at 5. The prince, arriving, ordered his chauffeur to return at 7.

At 6 o'clock a soldier passing the house heard revolver shots. With the porter he hurried into the flat, They heard a faint voice cry "fetch the locksmith, the keys are missing."

The men forced an entrance, and found the girl lying in a big armchair with her head thrown back, dead. The prince was lying on the floor with four bullets wounds, one piercing his lungs. He held a handkerchief to his face, shouting, "I am blind; I am blind."

The prince was hurried to a hospital, where it was found that he was suffering from vitriol thrown into his face. One eye was removed and the other is dangerously injured.

The reconstructed story is that the girl urged marriage before the departure from Vienna. The prince futilely endeavored to obtain his father's consent. His efforts in this direction failing, the prince offered the girl half a million kronen, as a recompense This offer the girl refused.

The prince then pointed out that marriage was impossible and tried to break off relations with the girl in obedience to his father's orders.

Seeing the hopelessness of her plight the girl threw vitriol into the prince's face and followed the acid with shots from a revolver, which she had kept concealed. Then she turned the weapon upon herself with fatal effect.

EX-GOV. SLATON GUARDED.

Shots Heard Near Home of Former Georgia Governor.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 1.—Fulton county police, after an investigation of the source of shots heard early yesterday near the country home in the northern part of Fulton county of former Gov. John M. Slaton, said last night there was no reason to believe the disturbance had any connection with alleged threats made to harm Slaton shortly after he commuted the sentence of Leo M. Frank, from hanging to life imprisonment. Shots were fired, the police learned, but they apparently were half a mile away from the Slaton home and were attributed to a boisterous automobile party, or to possum hunters.

The former Georgia governor, whose communtation of Frank's sentence in June last, just before his retirement from office, was followed a short time later by Frank being lynched, had been away from Atlanta since then until about three weeks ago.

Frank had been convicted of the murder of Mary Phagen, one of his employes. State militia guarded the Slaton country home where the family was then living for several weeks, after Frank's commutation. Shortly after that Mr. and Mrs. Slaton visited New York and later the Pacific coast. Since their return to Atlanta they have occupied their town residence.

There has been no open threat of violence against Slaton since he returned as far as can be learned. Several watchmen have been kept on duty at the country residence, and their first knowledge of shots, in that vicinity last night, they said, came from newspaper men who dashed up the broad driveway, to the house, their automobile horns sounding loudly to announce their coming.

"Don't ever come tearing up this driveway at night again, even if you do make a noise," said a watchman to one of the newspaper men, "it's a wonder I didn't fill that car full of lead," the watchman added.

NOVEL METHOD OF MURDER

Theory That Suicidal Shot Set Fire to Celluloid Collar of Chicago Man Disproved

Chicago, Nov. 1—What first appeared to be a novel method of suicide, whereby a prosperous teaming contractor had shot himself, the powder setting fire to his celluloid collar and his clothing and burned his body to a crisp, later developed into a murder with unusual features.

The police now believe the contractor, S. Hockstra, was murdered at some distance from where the body was found, hauled to the spot, saturated with oil and burned. A revolver with one cartridge exploded was found beside the body, but it has been proven that Hockstra never owned or carried a revolver and was deadly afraid of such weapons.

The burning celluloid collar theory was swept away when it was discovered that a three day's growth of beard on his chin was not singed. A burning celluloid collar would have scorched everything off his face. It also became known that Hockstra had been threatened by rival contractors for invading Evanston.

SLAYS WIFE AND ESCAPES

Bath, N. Y., Man Beat Woman With Hammer and Cut Throat

Bath, N. Y., Nov. 1—Bath was the scene of a murder, shocking in detail at an early hour yesterday morning when Sylvester Fenton killed his wife, first beating her into insensibility by repeatedly striking her over the head with a hammer. Then he cut her throat from ear to ear. Fenton is 63 years old and a well-known farmer. His wife was several years younger. Jealousy on the part of Fenton is believed by many to have been the cause of the murder; others hold that he was deranged mentally and irresponsible.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
